

Welcome Back Students!

Fliers come back to MMS as the 2017-18 school year begins

by Justice Smith

Welcome back everyone!

We at Flier Nation Information hope you all had a great summer and enjoyed your time away from school.

This is just a welcome back article so you can understand what our paper, Flier Nation Information, is all about. This group was started three years ago with some of my close friends, and we ended up with many more members than expected. Last year we were up to about 25 people who worked on the newspaper, and this year we are hoping for even more who are interested.

Flier Nation Information includes articles about things going on inside

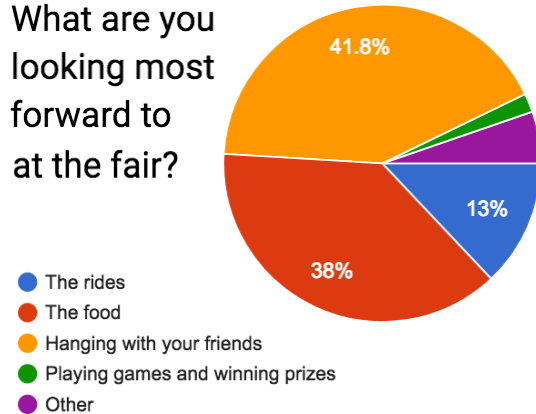

MMS and outside of our school as well, polls, comics, creative writing stories and more.

Flier Nation Information is run and edited by students, and students are the main source of our articles. Mr. Hill is our advisor, and he puts together the newspaper to make it look like what you see now.

If you want more information on joining, you can contact me through email, 22jsmith@clyde.k12.oh.us, or you can email Mr. Hill through his email, BHill@clyde.k12.oh.us. So if you are interested in joining, we would love to have you as part of our team. And keep a heads up for our next edition, which should be coming out the last Friday of September.

Have a photo you want to share in the newspaper, or a story idea we should do? Email it to bhill@clyde.k12.oh.us and we will try to get it in!

What are you looking most forward to at the fair?

Our new “Tech Guy,” Mr. Widman

by Cal Cahill

With our new school year, we have some new people in the building. Here we will meet one of these new people, our new technology assistant, Mr. Widman.

Mr. Widman just started working in the school district this year, replacing Mr. Hill who worked on the chromebooks last year. Mr. Widman will be handling our chromebooks and more at MMS this year. He works out of his office in the back of the library for a few hours each day before heading over to Clyde Elementary.

Of all things, it is sort of funny the two things that surprised Mr. Widman the most about working at MMS.

“[It surprises me] the amount of kids who are taller than me,” he said. He also said he is surprised at how often Chromebooks randomly stop working (though we already know how often that happens).

Mr. Widman attended Terra State College for his associate’s degree and the University of Phoenix, where he got his bachelor’s degree in computer science. He says he wanted to start working in the CGS School district because he has always liked the school district and he thought it was a good opportunity for him.

“The first couple months have been great,” he said. “The staff in every building have been inviting and the job itself has been fun and challenging.”

We’re very excited to have Mr. Widman around this year to work on our Chromebooks!
